Oral questions were put to the Leader as follows :

Name	Subject	Comment
Cllr Lumley	Can you advise who recommended the newly announced independent to lead the government funded task force for transport on the Island and confirm that he had no links with the franchise or the MP and his transport advisor?	The Leader responded that the individual was very much an independent and not linked to either individual identified.
Cllr Lumley	Would you be absolutely certain that there were no links to the MP and transport advisor	The Leader advised that he would make the relevant enquiries and that Mr Garnett had been recommended by a member, he was also well known in transport circles
Cllr Price	Do you agree that there had been unnecessary concern to Carisbrooke School during the consultation which had an effect on GCSE results	The Leader explained that the consultation had to be completed and he felt that Carisbrooke's GCSE results had been good.
Cllr Price	Contrary to members discussions the closure of Carisbrooke still featured in the consultation which put undue pressure on the school	The Leader informed that advice had been taken regarding the timing of the consultation and he had been concerned regarding the results at Medina.
Cllr Stubbings	Would you accept a meeting outside the chamber to discuss Cllr Lumley's concerns raised earlier?	The Leader said he would.
Cllr Whitehouse	A transport report had been commissioned and provided and would that report be published in full?	The Leader advised that he would take advice on the agreement with the provider to ascertain if the whole report would be published.

Name	Subject	Comment
Cllr Whitehouse	Do you agree that the way the closure of Weston Academy was announced had financial implications on both parents and staff at the school?	The Leader advised that the decision had been made between AET and DfE; he agreed that the timing could have been better and officers had worked with parents to find alternative school places. He also confirmed that the final decision had not been made.
Cllr Blezzard	When will I get a response to my six written questions submitted to you last week?	The Leader informed that he would provide a written response and that he had passed some of the questions to the relevant Executive member.

The Chair of the committee informed that he had started working with officers regarding policy although it was felt that staff bullying policies had been more of a priority it would be brought to Committee to review.
Cllr Whitehouse	In light of Cllr Stewart's question, would you agree doing an excellent job?	The Chair of the committee agreed.

44. Motion submitted under Procedure Rule 10 of the Council's Constitution

By Councillor Geoff Lumley

The following was moved by Cllr Lumley:

Council notes:

- It has been estimated that the UK Treasury loses as much as £12 billion to tax dodging by multinational companies every year. Developing countries also lose three times more to tax dodging than they receive in aid each year - enough to give a basic education to the 57 million children currently missing out.
- The UK has a particular responsibility to end tax dodging, as it is responsible for 1 in 5 of the world's tax havens in the British Overseas Territories and Crown Dependencies.
- The use of tax havens by UK companies is rife, with 98 of the FTSE 100 companies routinely using tax havens.
- Large multinational companies pay as little as 5% in corporate taxes globally, while smaller businesses pay up to 30%.

Council believes:

- As a local authority we have a duty to provide the best possible public services.

- Our ability to provide quality local services would be significantly enhanced by the increased revenues from the government tackling tax dodging.
- All who benefit from public spending should contribute their fair share.
- The UK must take a lead role in creating a fairer tax system and combatting tax dodging.

Council resolves:

- To support the campaign for tax justice, supporting the statement:

“While many ordinary people face falling household income and rising costs of living, some multinational companies are avoiding billions of pounds of tax from a tax system that fails to make them pay their fair share. Local governments in the UK and developing countries alike would benefit from a fairer tax system where multinational companies pay their fair share, enabling authorities around the world to provide quality public services. The UK government must listen to the strength of public feeling and act to end the injustice of tax dodging by large multinational companies, in developing countries and the UK.”

In moving the motion Councillor Lumley noted that a possible amendment had been circulated in writing but indicated that he was willing to add the proposed amendment to the original motion. The supporter of the amendment (Councillor Hutchinson) welcomed this and therefore the following was added to the above motion:

THAT council also resolves:

To support the Government in the lead it has taken to require multinational companies to pay a fairer share of tax, as exemplified in the “diverted profits” tax legislation which came into effect earlier this year, requiring all companies to pay 25% tax on profits assessed by HMRC as having been artificially diverted from the UK.

To endorse the government’s initiative to help developing countries strengthen their tax systems by funding, through the Department for International Development, a programme of international tax seminars run by HMRC, thus enabling developing countries to build capacity to claim their tax entitlement from multinationals and to participate in the Multilateral Convention on sharing tax information.

To support the OECD proposals, initiated by the UK government at the 2013 G8 meeting and announced just six days ago, to curb tax base erosion and profit shifting by multinationals, which are expected to be formally ratified at the G20 summit this number.

At the conclusion of the debate a named vote was taken the result of which was as follows:
