ALCOHOL, THE LAW & YOUNG PEOPLE

You may have heard lots of different things about the new licensing laws. This leaflet attempts to explain what the new laws mean for young people.

To be able to buy alcohol you have to be 18.

If you attempt to buy alcohol and you are not 18 you are breaking the law. You could get an £80 fine.

If you ask somebody over 18 to buy you alcohol and they attempt to do so they are breaking the law. They could be fined £80.

If you are under 18 and drinking alcohol in a public place the police can take the alcohol off you and pour it away. They may also take unopened bottles from you.

If you are aged 10-15 and drinking in a public place the police can take you home to your parents and give you a £30 fine.

If you are aged 16 or 17 and drinking in a public place the police can give you a £50 fine and send a letter to your parents and to your school.

If you are aged 16 or 17 and go in the pub with an adult, the adult may buy you beer, wine or cider if you are having a meal at a table.

If you are under 18 and you drink alcohol in a pub (except for the previous situation) you are breaking the law and could be fined £50.

If you are under 16 and with an adult it is up to the pub whether or not you are allowed in.

Any pub or shop that sells alcohol to somebody under 18 breaks the law and can be fined up to £5000. They could also lose their licence to sell alcohol.

It is against the law to deliver alcohol to anybody under the age of 18.

If you are under 18 and working in a pub or shop it is against the law for you to sell alcohol without supervision. You could be fined £80.

It is against the law to give a child under the age of 5 a drink of alcohol.
