Explanatory notes

Catholic – The definition of membership of the Catholic Church is Baptism or reception into full communion with the Church, evidenced by a baptismal certificate or statement from the parish in which the reception took place. Either of the following is evidence of membership of the Catholic Church:

- (a) a certificate of baptism from a Catholic church.
- (b) a certificate of reception into full communion with the Catholic Church.

Catechumens – A Catechumen is a person undergoing preparation for baptism into the Catholic Church and has been accepted into the Order of Catechumens.

Christian tradition – Other Christian denominations should be defined as: children who belong to other churches and ecclesial communities which, acknowledging God’s revelation in Christ, confess the Lord Jesus Christ as God and Saviour according to the Scriptures, and, in obedience to God’s will and in the power of the Holy Spirit commit themselves: to seek a deepening of their communion with Christ and with one another in the Church, which is his body; and to fulfil their mission to proclaim the Gospel by common witness and service in the world to the glory of the one God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit. An ecclesial community which on principle has no credal statements in its tradition, is included if it manifests faith in Christ as witnessed to in the Scriptures and is committed to working in the spirit of the above.

All members of Churches Together in England and of CYTUN are deemed to be included in the above definition, as are all other churches and ecclesial communities that are in membership of any local Churches Together Group (by whatever title) on the above basis.

Parent – parent, guardian or other who has actual care of the child and whose address appears on the child benefit book or other legal agreement confirming the care of the child.

Sibling – a brother or sister including half-brother, half-sister, stepbrother or stepsister, or any child who lives in the home as part of the family.

Home - home must be the address where the child usually lives. Children who have parents with shared responsibility will have the address of the parent who is in receipt of child benefit.

Families relocating - Places cannot be offered on the basis of a possible future move. Places can only be offered on the basis of a future move:-

(i) If you are moving to the Island from the mainland, under Inter-Authority working you will need to apply for a place at an Island school via your current local authority. They will inform our local authority who will inform us of the application.

(ii) in the case of UK service personnel and Crown servants, an official MOD, FCO or GCHQ letter declaring a relocation date to the area.
