CV Tips – What makes a good CV?

Personal Statement

Your personal statement is the first thing an employer reads and an opportunity to personalise your CV. You should briefly summarise what you have achieved in the past, what you hope to achieve in the future, and how the job you're applying for fits that plan.

Be concise

Employers receive tens, if not hundreds, of applications for every job they advertise so make sure your CV is quick and easy to read. Use simple language that gets your point across. Using too many words will make you seem unsure of yourself.

Choose your Template

There are hundreds of templates available online. Go for one that is tailored to your situation to make your CV as relevant as possible!

Match your CV to the job

Employers can spot 'one size fits all' CVs a mile off, so make sure yours stands out by tailoring your CV to fit the job you're applying for.

Check, check, and check again!

Grammar and spelling are really important, so read your CV a few times to make sure there are no mistakes. Why not ask someone else to read it over too?

Don't be shy

Your CV is your opportunity to show people what you're capable of and convince your prospective employer that you're right for the job. Don't be afraid to blow your own trumpet!

Length and Presentation

A good CV is never longer than two sides of A4. If yours is longer, cut out the information that isn't relevant. Don't use font size smaller than 11. Knowing that people can read it is important!

Give examples

Most of us are guilty of having written a CV full of buzzwords like 'teamwork' and 'communication skills' without explaining what we mean by them. Anyone can say they're organised so make sure you give an example to demonstrate how you stand out from the crowd.

The power of google

The first thing more prospective employers will do after reading your CV is Google you. Make sure your social media profiles are private. Also, if you have a LinkedIn profile, make sure your CV matches it so that you appear consistent.
