Why not make your own dragon puppet?

Dragon Facts

Dragons are mythological creatures that have existed in folklore across the world for thousands of years.

It is possible that the idea of dragons came from ancient discoveries of dinosaur fossils, alongside people's fear of snakes and other dangerous reptiles.

Dragons on the Isle of Wight

The Isle of Wight Heritage Service looks after thousands of historical items. Some of our collections have a connection with dragons. These objects include a medieval gold finger ring and a silver toothpick/ear scoop.

This gold ring is over 500 years old. Can you see the picture of the lady engraved on the ring? This is St Margaret of Antioch there is a story that she was eaten by a dragon. St Margaret managed to escape by killing the dragon, spearing it through the mouth with her cross.

The ear scoop was made over 300 years ago. Can you see the dragons tongue? This would have been used for getting wax out of your ears!

The toothpick is missing but would have emerged from the body of a dragon.

Dragon puppet - What you will need

Paper 2 ice lolly sticks / straws / pencils or stiff cardboard Sticky tape Crayons/felt tip pens/colour pencils Crepe paper/ribbon/wool/string optional

Instructions

1/ Draw and design your own dragon head and tail. Or you can print out, cut and colour the template provided below.

2/ Make the body of your dragon by cutting a long piece of paper. The paper should be the same thickness as the head and tail of your dragon. Fold the paper back and forth (like an accordion).

If you wanted a very long dragon can tape together several pieces of paper.

Attach the head and tail of the dragon onto each end of the folded paper.

3/ Tape the sticks to the back of the dragon's head and tail. These sticks will be the handles for your puppet. If you do not have any sticks, then use strips of thick cardboard instead.

4/ Decorate your puppet using what you can find around the house.

5/ Make up a dragon story and put on a puppet show for your friends and family.

The legend of Dragon Island

In ancient times, the chalk downs which form the central spine of the Island were thought to resemble a dragon. Its tail being The Needles and its head lay at Bembridge Foreland. A small cove called 'The Nostrils' would have formed part of the creature's head (this is situated just below Culver Cliff in Sandown).

Can you draw the sleeping dragon on the map of the Isle of Wight? Can you mark on the map of the Island the location of your house? Is your house built on top of the sleeping dragon?
